ANNUAL REPORT

DIRECTOR'S MESSAGE

STABILIZING OPERATIONS IN 2022

The good news in 2022 was that many jobs lost in the pandemic were recovered, resulting in the number of people FFA supported dropping 42% from the preceding year. Yet demand for our services was still high, with 68,700 food-insecure community members served.

In 2022, FFA tracked rescued food for the first time. We are proud to have rescued 98,000 lbs. of high-quality food through Amazon Fresh and Food Rescue DC. Otherwise, this food would have been wasted and ended up in a landfill.

Overall, after the massive growth that occurred during the pandemic, FFA has reached a sustainable level of operations in collaboration with our committed volunteers, generous donors and socially conscious partners.

Peter Sage, Director

WE SUPPORT

In 2022, with many clients finding jobs, FFA went back to basics, supporting more homebound people. 50% of the new clients in 2022 were in poor physical or mental health, had disabilities, were elderly or were single mothers. FFA takes pride in helping provide a sense of security for those in unstable circumstances.

OUR VOLUNTEERS

FFA's 45 core volunteers do intake, deliver food, drive trucks, pack bags and raise funds. They are the backbone of FFA's operation, showing up every week with the spirit of service. Our volunteer drivers have been exemplary in making sure clients have food to celebrate birthdays and support special diets.

In 2022, we launched a corporate volunteer program to provide company employees with a direct experience of food security issues. Our first participants were a GEICO team who inspired us with their spirit of compassionate service.

WE DELIVERED

In 2022, many clients reported being advised by their doctors to eat more fresh produce. We were delighted to support their commitment to a healthier lifestyle by delivering over 270,000 lbs. of fruits and vegetables city wide. In 2022, we also provided halal meats and corn flour to our Muslim and Latinx neighbors respectively. FFA is committed to meeting clients' specific food needs to the best of its capacity.

THE COLLABORATION WITH FOOD FOR ALL ENABLED FATHER FACTOR TO PROVIDE FOOD TO 480 FAMILIES IN 2022. THIS FOOD HELPED OUR TEAM BUILD RELATIONSHIPS WITH RESIDENTS AND CONNECT THEM TO OTHER SERVICE PROVIDERS AS REQUIRED. I'M GRATEFUL."
